This Week In Credit

Negative Rating Actions Ease, But Risks Remain

This report does not constitute a rating action.

June 16, 2025

Key Takeaways

- Positive rating actions exceeded negative ones for the first week since the end of Aprilalbeit by a narrow margin. Upgrades included one new rising star: HA Sustainable Infrastructure Capital Inc.
- While just over half of upgrades were to investment-grade issuers, downgrades remained concentrated on the speculative-grade level, with nine downgrades to 'B+' and below. There were three new risky credits (issuers in the 'CCC' category), all based in the U.S. and two from the consumer products sector.
- There were three defaults last week, with the two public defaults due to distressed exchanges. The largest default by debt volume last week was France-based telecommunications operator, Altice France S.A.
